Several design elements of the Silver and Gold Centenary Building Jewels come from details in Freemasons' Hall: the oak leaves are taken from the windows in the Vestibules, the representations of Faith, Hope, and Charity come from the mosaic ceiling in the Grand Temple, and the wild roses are those depicted on the metalwork of the Shrine.

The design of the Hall Stone Centenary Building Jewel is a modernised version of the original Hall Stone Jewel.

There will be an option to purchase a 9ct gold version of this jewel instead of the standard version.
